Lonely Lives Brand

If all things go right most persons would not usually have any problems with adjustment in society as what it means is that in one way or the other they are very fulfilled and are 'happening' just like their peers

I mean that they are in 'tune' with activities in their communities with regards to social development because they are just as 'fun' to be with like their 'mates' they are happy and are fulfilled in their interactions and they find out that life is worth living in everything that they do or did

However at times 'accidents' do occur or 'incidents' do happen and persons who were previously fulfilled find themselves abandoned when the 'bean spills' or revelations start to occur about peoples behaviours when they were trying to be 'fulfilled' or 'happen'.

There are quite some persons who have had a variety of experiences and have been through it all that have a 'forehand' knowledge of events that 'happened' or about to 'happen' and usually know when to 'lie' low and play it 'cool' but there are some others who dont 'visualize' correctly and hence find themselves in difficult situations

Such persons 'fumble' and as a result of this they are 'resented' by a great many of people they suddenly find out that they are no longer favoured and start living in isolation away from the 'crowd' they cant happen because they are in an artificial 'state of coma' socially and stay indoors living lonely isolated lives

There are also others who have abused themselves with 'negative behaviours' as a result of which they are 'perplexed' are 'high' 'marooned' and out of circulation such persons are avoided by more ambitious persons' goal getters' because they are considered dangerous' such persons as described above find themselves living lonely lives because of a previous abuse of themselves'

Other persons afflicted with lonely lives trauma's are persons other people find awkward ,out of date , out of touch with reality they dont have any 'genuine' 'creativity',any 'new money' that would symbolise growth and development are always 'talking' and 'shouting' to the resentment of successful persons to the extent that such persons are ignored into living lonely lives

The reason being that successful persons only like to 'mingle' with people like themselves while relegating the 'losers' into 'mingling' with losers with unfulfilled lonely lives so that in future if they are ambitious enough would have the companionship or relationship with people that they need to live fulfilling lives
